UNDERSTAND YOUR LOANS

You may have one or more of the following types of loans:

SUBSIDIZED VS UNSUBSIDIZED

The accrued interest for subsidized loans¹ is paid by the government while you're in school and during other approved times of non-payment. If your loan is unsubsidized, you're responsible for the interest immediately.

FEDERAL VS PRIVATE

Federal loans are funded by the federal government and come with benefits like reduced monthly payments and deferment. Private loans are issued by banks or similar institutions, and can often help bridge any financial gap not covered by federal loans.

FIXED INTEREST VS VARIABLE INTEREST

Fixed rates are constant for the life of the loan, but variable interest rates are subject to be adjusted annually on July 1.

KNOW YOUR STATUS

The life of a student loan consists of three stages:

School:

While you're enrolled in school at least half time, you're not required to make payments on your loans; however, you can make payments on the outstanding principal balance and accrued interest on any unsubsidized loans, which will save you money in the long run.

Grace:

A loan's grace period is the six-month window between when you graduate or drop below half-time enrollment status and when you are required to start making payments. Even though no payments are due yet, you can make payments on the outstanding principal balance and accrued interest on any unsubsidized loans, which will save you money later.

Repayment:

This stage starts with your first payment and continues through the life of your loan.

YOU HAVE REPAYMENT OPTIONS

There are many repayment plans available for your federal student loans. Log in to your Nelnet.com account to explore what's available, and find the plan that fits you and your budget.

REPAYMENT IS EASIER WHEN YOUR OVERALL DEBT IS LOWER

It's good to avoid accumulating credit card debt or purchasing unnecessary big-ticket items. So when your loan enters repayment, you can focus on that first.
